The highlight of the evening was the presenting of the annual awards. President Kim Neapole presented The President’s Award to Wendy Ledford! The Fashion Show Chair Award, presented by Linda Van Vark (2016), went to President Kim Neapole. The Guilder of the Year Award was presented by Mary Roberts (2017) to Pamela Maudsley Merrill. Mary Roberts received her Permanent Guilder of the Year Award from Gail Dill (2016). Carol Winters received her permanent Irma Macpherson Founder Award from Dolores Smith (2013). And the Irma Macpherson Founder Award for 2018 was presented by last year’s winner Carol Winter (2017) to Trudi Landreth.

Thank you to everyone who made this evening one to remember.

Judy McMorrow, Chair

Awards Night 2018 was a very festive affair held at the Cosmopolitan Hotel in Old Town on October 26, 2018. Over 70 Guilders and friends attended the outdoor patio event. Many heaters kept us as warm as toast. And we introduced our new step and repeat background for the Guilders (pictured at right).

We were met by guitar music and check in ladies Susan O’Dean Sekeres and Judi Menzel. Along with them, the committee included Marisa SorBello - reservations, Gail Dill - invitations and the fabulous table tents, and Maggie Acosta and Wendy Ledford - décor. Special thanks to VP Social Lynn Silva for her support and advice.

Our speaker Timothy J. Shields, The Globe’s Managing Director, gave us a wrap up of 2018, which has been a stellar year for the Theatre, and a preview of the coming year.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Don’t miss our annual Holiday Luncheon on December 14th at La Jolla Country Club. We will install our new Executive Committee and present the Globe with the proceeds from our fundraising efforts this year.

As I reflect on this past year, I would like to thank all the members for your help. Little did I know what a strong arsenal of talent and commitment was assembled with the Executive Committee. Our meetings were messy and noisy and rather unorthodox as we took on our responsibilities in the auxiliary PLUS the fashion show, but so much was accomplished. From our first Guilder credit card and improved electronic email communication to a new membership brochure. We now promote the Guilders with the Globe in mailings and at Insight Seminars. Our new Guilder mentoring program is stronger than ever. Marguerite Jackson-Dill suggested a new minutes format that keeps our action items at the forefront. My heartfelt thanks to the Executive Committee. It was a privilege to work with you all.

Every Guilder’s contributions make a difference to our beloved theatre. While our time, treasure and talent is highly valued and appreciated, it is the Guilders’ love and affection for The Old Globe and her family that is at the heart of being a Guilder. You are all extraordinary and I look forward to another year together in 2019.

Warm regards,

Kim Neapole

Celebrating Couture - August 16, 2018

The Globe Guilders partnered with Neiman Marcus for the eleventh year to present Celebrating Couture 2018, The Art of Fashion. This is the 28th annual fashion show benefiting The Old Globe’s artistic and arts engagement programs.

We returned to the beautiful Omni La Costa Resort and Spa, Carlsbad, and opened with a complimentary champagne reception and an assortment of silent auction baskets. For the first time, a mobile bidding and payment system from GiveSmart provided Globe Guilders with up to the minute information and payment. In addition to four beautiful costumes on display from The Old Globe’s costume department, a stunning dress and coat from Peggy Matthews were displayed. This year’s fashion show was dedicated to Peggy for her tremendous support of the Globe and Guilders over the years.

Guests began the luncheon with a mini chilled vegetable cocktail martini, while the live auction took off with exciting bids for items such as a 12-day Holland America Cruise for two or a week at the exclusive Rancho La Puerta.

Tom Melody introduced The Art of Fashion, which began with artist Clarione Gutierrez recreating the fairy image with the butterflies coming to life across the screens.

Then head to toe fashions filled the runway! For the grand finale, a personal video greeting from designer Zac Posen was followed by the presentation of twenty Zac Posen gowns. This year’s stunning show lasted over twenty-five minutes. A big thank you to Ida and Alex, from Neiman Marcus, for creating such a beautiful show.

After the show, guests dined on seared Sumac salmon, roasted leeks, French lentil and baby but- tered turnips followed by a decadent flourless toffee cake with a salted caramel sauce. Karen Ann Daniels, Associate Director of Arts Engagement, spoke of the importance of “Making Theatre Matter” to all parts of our community and showed a film highlighting Axis and CoLab programs. This was followed by a paddle raise which raised more than $19,000.

Special thanks to Co-chairs Pam Maudsley-Merrill, Mary Roberts, Lisa Berry Shaw and Lynn Silva, the entire Fashion Show committee and The Old Globe’s Development Department. Lead Underwriting for the event was generously provided by: Jeannie Rivkin, Audrey S. Geisel and the Dr. Seuss Foundation, The Peggy Matthews Foundation, Karen Cohn and Sheryl White. Support from Media partner Ranch and Coast was also provided.

Sincerely,
Kim Neapole

Dear Globe Guilders,

Thank you to each of you for your incredible support of The Old Globe in 2018. As we look back over the year, we are so grateful for all that you do for the Globe:

- The Globe Guilders raised significant income and made many new friends at Celebrating Couture 2018. Thanks to the Guilders and Neiman Marcus, it was a beautiful and fun event.
- You provided delicious treats and a warm welcome at nine Meet and Greets and the spring Company Call.
- You “parented” 14 MFA students in The Old Globe and University of San Diego Shiley Graduate Theatre Program, becoming instant friends and mentors to these talented young people.
- You supported two Globe shows: American Mariachi and Clint Black’s Looking for Christmas, and bring your friends and family members to enjoy these and other great Globe productions.
- You brought 80 theatre volunteers from 12 different theatres across the country to learn more about volunteering at the CAVORT conference – and you spread the word about how the Globe makes theatre matter.
- You are about to provide needed volunteers for the annual December Nights festival and you have volunteered for many other projects, including the successful Shakespeare in Prisons conference that the Globe hosted in February.
- You are also subscribers and individual donors. You come to Globe shows, you support the Globe through your own generous contributions, and you give of your time and talent.

You help us create public good for San Diego – you help us make theatre matter to more people.

And now, even as we close out 2018 – a tremendously successful season both artistically and financially – we are looking forward to 2019. In addition to all the great shows you will see, you will also get to meet an important addition to the Globe family. In January, we will welcome Jesse J. Perez, the new Director of the Old Globe/University of San Diego Shiley Graduate Theatre Program. Jesse brings a wealth of artistry, activism and leadership to San Diego, along with some thrilling new ideas for the next chapter of this highly-ranked acting program.

We are truly appreciative of all that you do for the Globe and send you warm wishes for all the best in 2019 and beyond,

Barry Edelstein

Steering Committee Birthday Celebrations

A loving tribute was mounted for Helen Edison, Old Globe benefactor. Helen died in 1990, and her close friends and family gathered in the main theatre to remember her. She came to San Diego with her husband Simon in 1974. Following her husband’s death, she gave the $1 million that played a pivotal role in the rebuilding campaign following the fire that destroyed the Old Globe Theatre. The campaign had plateaued before Helen added the needed funds. Her $1 million contribution allowed matching funds to kick in.

Globe supporter Victor Ottenstein was remembered at the Globe at a celebratory gathering on 2010, with a graceful reception held in front of the theatre following remarks. A large gathering of theatre artists and friends paid tribute to our beloved Diane Sinor inside the Old Globe Theatre in 2012.

Not all ceremonies at the Globe marked deaths of people associated with the organization. Harvey and Sheryl White were married at the Globe. The wedding was attended by jubilant friends and family. The Whites have continued their advocacy for the Globe. The newest theatre at the complex is the Sheryl and Harvey White Theatre.

Darlene Davies
Globe Historian

Memorable celebrations of life have been held at The Old Globe. Over many years, individuals and families have chosen to mark significant times in their lives at this much loved arts institution.

William (Bill) Eaton (pictured at right) was a fixture at the Globe for 40 years. He began as a volunteer in 1948, eventually assuming the role of business manager, and then the job of public relations director. He was peerless in that role, revered by all who knew and worked with him. The San Diego Critics Circle acknowledged his contributions with a special award in 1988, as did the San Diego Press Club in 1990. When Bill died in 1990, a celebration of his life was held in the Globe Theatre. There was not an empty seat in the house, so beloved was this man. A commemorative plaque in his honor occupies a permanent place on a wall of the south side of the theatre.

This Biannual National Conference was hosted by The Globe Guilders and the The Old Globe, at The Crowne Plaza Hotel in Mission Valley. Thursday the 11th, a preregistration tour to The Old Globe Technical Center, a Trolley Tour and lunch at Buster’s at Seaport Village initiated the work/play conference.

Registration Thursday afternoon at three was followed by a Fiesta Reception. Patti Slagle, President of CAVORT opened the conference and introduced me. After my welcome and thank you to my committee Nikki Clay, Chair of The Old Globe Board of Directors, welcomed the visitors from across the country and introduced Timothy Shields, Old Globe Managing Director, who was speaker for the evening.

Friday speakers covered topics on: volunteer recruitment, retention and recognition; fundraising; Art’s advocacy; and communication. Midway through the day a delicious lunch was provided at the hotel. Maryellen Gleason, Development Director of the Pasadena Playhouse spoke on Engaging New Members. The day ended with a beautiful outdoor dining experience in Craig Noel Garden, with speakers in the White Theatre. The Old Globe’s performance of The Heart of Rock & Roll, was enthusiastically received.

Saturday morning a Behind the Scenes tour of the three theatres was provided by Old Globe tour docents. A fun picnic lunch was held in the Rehearsal Hall where Director of Arts Engagement Freedome Bradley-Ballentine spoke to the group. This completed our visits to all parts of The Old Globe campus. Once back at the Crowne Plaza the attendees had roundtable discussions and the President presided over the CAVORT general meeting, our parts included the Bright Ideas Awards as well as some Fun Awards.

Saturday evening an optional activity was dinner in the Gaslamp District and San Diego Musical Theatre’s performance of Young Frankenstein. This trip, as throughout the conference, was aboard a vital participant of the Conference, the Old Town Trolleys.

Thank you Globe Guilders, for your outstanding planning, organizing and hosting: Maggie Acosta, Helen Allison, Nancy Brock, Marguerite Jackson Dill, Doug Druley, Bonnie Duell, Cathie Ellis, Pat Gillespie, Cathryn Golden, Cindy Guzzo, Joydelee Marrow, Judy McMorrow, Kim Neapole, Sue Parker, Lisa Berry Shaw, Lynn Silva, Marisa SorBello, Randy Tidmore, Suzie Turner, Linda Van Vark, Gretchen Vik, Bonnie Wright, plus subcommittee members: Sally Berry, Angie DeCaro, Chrissy Roberts and Old Globe staff: Robin Hatfield and Llewellyn Crain, and speaker Darlene Davies.
